ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS & THE AGE WAVE

This presentation addresses ethical considerations in meeting the mental health needs of the “Age Wave”. Special attention will be given to the increased need to serve seniors with mental health challenges in any setting. Abuse, neglect and exploitation will be reviewed with an emphasis on what the lack of power and control looks like for vulnerable adults. Reporting requirements and resources available will be discussed and scenarios will be practiced.

Objectives

- Identify implications of the growing population of persons 65+, their needs and the ethics of serving this population.
- Differentiate between the different types of abuse commonly perpetuated on the older adult population and reporting requirements.
- Apply knowledge to experiences in practice and the field.
