Plan a Meaningful, Affordable LIFE

Friendships flourish as residents live side-by-side in affordable, senior apartment communities. Designed especially for older adults with limited resources, LIFE’s Vintage Housing communities offer full-access to community-based services, fostering independence, socialization and the ability to age in place.

Monthly calendars feature social, learning and recreational activities organized by a Planning Committee at each site. From socializing in the multiple common areas with caring neighbors to the on-site manager who knows everyone by name, Vintage Housing is a safe harbor for its residents.

Making LIFE Better

LIFE Senior Services is Tulsa’s premier aging services organization specializing in home and community-based services that promote healthy aging and aging-in-place for seniors, as well as services and support for family caregivers who play a critical role in helping their loved ones continue living at home.

This institution is an equal opportunity provider and employer, “We do not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, national origin, familial status or disability status, age, sex.” Professionally managed by Sooner Management Consultants, Inc.
Housing Designed for Older Adults

LIFE’s Vintage Housing developments are designed especially for older adults who are socially and functionally independent. Each two or three story facility has up to 48 apartments which lease for below-market rates to qualifying individuals.

The developments feature a one-building design with multiple common areas that enhance socialization. Some of the common areas include:

- Large dining and meeting area with a complete kitchen on the first floor
- Lounge area
- Library/activity room with tables, comfortable seating and an entertainment system
- Craft room with work space and storage for individual and group projects
- Hair salon
- Community laundry facilities on each floor
- Centrally-located elevator and mail room

By design, each apartment fosters independence by featuring a private kitchen for preparing meals, cozy living area, private bath, large closet and either one or two bedrooms. The apartments also have individually-controlled central heat and air-conditioning. Well-lit interiors and corridors, peepholes in the doors, smoke alarms and emergency pull cords in each unit, as well as an on-site manager are just a few of the safety features built into the design of each Vintage Housing property. All apartments meet or exceed the standards set by the Americans with Disabilities Act and at least two apartments are specifically designed for handicapped residents.
