

How Do You Know if the Time is Right for Adult Day Health?

The questions below will help you determine if adult day health is the right choice for you and your loved one. If you answer "yes" to even one, you may want to start considering adult day health as an option.

- Do you need help caring for a loved one?
- Are you worried about their safety when you aren't with them?
- Are you having to find someone to stay with your loved one when you need to work or run errands?
- Do you find yourself taking time off from work to care for them?
- Has your relationship with your loved one become strained because their care needs have increased? Would you both benefit from some time apart?
- Would you both benefit from your loved one being engaged and busy during the day, so they sleep better at night?
- Does your loved one have health issues, forget to take medications or have care needs that they cannot manage alone?
- Has your loved one become isolated from friends or favorite activities?
- Would your loved one benefit from a daytime program that includes nutritious meals, assistance, exercise and social activity?
